					(Portugal) pelagic longliner operating under the IOTC, which was targeting IOTC species rather than SIOFA species. The EU was therefore not required to report bycatch for this vessel to SIOFA. In order to address the issue of bycatches of SIOFA species by pelagic vessels operating under the IOTC, the EU considers that it would be useful for the IOTC to collect such bycatch information and exchange it with SIOFA, noting that such a mechanism would also result in a more complete picture of bycatches of SIOFA species by pelagic vessels considering the different memberships of IOTC and SIOFA. In this respect, the EU notes that the proposed cooperation arrangement between IOTC and SIOFA provides for the exchange of such information.
